SOME BRISK RING EVENTS.

ENTERTAIN BIG CROWDS AT THE FAIR.

EXHIBITS DRAW PRIZES.

Phenomenal Display of Agricultural and Horticultural Products in the Art Hall at the Fair Grounds—The Races—Tugboats Will be Here Today—Interesting Notes of the Day.

Yesterday at the state fair war, as has been confidently predicted and expected, the biggest day of the week to date. A crowded grandstand and quarter stretch greeted the races, a good-natured, pleased crowd trod on toes and jostled in Art hall, the pony show and booth proprietors did a rattling, rushing business and the smiles of the fair association members are broad and full of beaming joy. They deserved a crowd. The list of attractions offered, the fine weather and good grounds give a people so prosperous as those of Oklahoma no choice but to go and have a glorious time.

Marshal Baxter, Secretary Greer, Superintendent McKeand and other fair officers are doing splendid work and the nearly 7,000 people on the grounds yesterday were more than satisfied with the exposition. Tomorrow's attendance is booked to be 12,000 and may reach an even higher figure.

The general excellence of the exhibits makes it more than a newspaper account could undertake to describe. Art hall is packed with displays of all that is best in the products of Oklahoma industry, and the foreign exhibits are more than twice as numerous and valuable as ever before. Notable among them are displays of the Pattee Plow Co. of Monmouth, Ill.; Kistelman Bros., woven wire fence machines; the Monarch fence machines and others of no less interest to Oklahomans.

Every county and nearly every township had representatives here today. This is, in fact, a territorial fair, and all tallies to the contrary must certainly now sing small. Congressman Bailey, of Texas, who was to speak at the grounds yesterday, was unable to come owing to the serious illness of his wife, but the crowd was too full of brass band and horse race to miss anything. It was having a rollicking old time with what was at hand.

Today John J. Ingalls, the man of whom it has been said "He has more brains and less meat on his bones than any other man west of the Mississippi," will speak from the grandstand at 2 p. m. Everyone who can will be out to hear Ingalls.

The races yesterday were, as a whole, the best the territory has ever seen. The 2:15 trot won by Vendor was only secured by a special effort on the part of the association, and the mile in 1:16 was a new pace for this track.

In the Speed Ring.

The first race was a 2:25 pace for a consolation purse of a hundred. There were six entries, and the race was for blood from the start. Daisy K, owned by E. S. Emmons, of Noble county, won the first and second heats, and Josie Hayes, James Hayes, black mare, won the third and fourth. Intense interest was manifested in the fifth heat, which was to decide the race, and when Josie Hayes came under the wire, beating Adonis by a narrow margin, the crowd cheered her heartily. It was a rattling race, and Starter Toler allowed no time between the horses, and promptly announced the winners and time, so that interest never flagged for a moment. Daisy K got second money, Adonis third, and Lady Goldfield fourth. Time, 2:25, 2:27, 2:27 1/2, 2:28, 2:29.

The second race, a 2:15 trot, started with Vendor, Kasper and Michigan Jim. Vendor the favorite, won in the last two heats, after losing the first to Kasper. It was a close race and with a couple of close finishes, and the packed grandstand enjoyed it to the utmost. Vendor first, Kasper second, Michigan Jim third. Time 2:23 1/2, 2:20 1/2 and 2:20 1/2.

Darley, Jr., Little Jim, Relian and Prince Leaf started in the half mile repeat, which was third on the program. Prince Leaf, the favorite, won in 51 seconds and the race was postponed until today.

L. H. owned by E. M. Smith, Rosewood, John Dunbar's horse, and Glen Campbell, owned by E. Horton, of Sioux City, Iowa, in a one mile repeat run brought out more enthusiasm than any other race of the day. Rosewood won the first heat, Campbell second, then Campbell won the second in a close, not final, with Rosewood second. In the second Rosewood sprang a shoe and the finish heat will be run today.

The fifth and last race was a quarter dash for ponies, with a purse of $25. There were five starters. Little Pet, the favorite, won in 13 1/2 seconds, which is a time that speaks well for the track.

Altogether the races yesterday were away yonder, and today's will be just as good.

Program.

Hon. John J. Ingalls will speak at the grounds at 1 o'clock sharp.

THE EXPERIMENT STATION.

Proof That It Is a Practical Help to Farmers.

Among the many creditable exhibits must be mentioned that of the agricultural and mechanical college located at Stillwater. This exhibit was not entered for competition, but was solely for the purpose of illustrating the work of the experiment station. The exhibit of thirty-five varieties of wheat, each of which gave yield exceeding forty bushels per acre, was most instructive. It showed beyond a doubt the fact that Oklahoma is one of the greatest wheat growing countries of the world.

The breadth of the work of the station is shown by the great variety of products shown. The varieties of corn, several of cow peas, soy beans, of alfalfa, milo, maize and of millet were exhibited. The display of destructive insects and of cloth bugs inoculated with the infection would repay an hour of careful study.

Small specimens of alfalfa clover and timothy and other tame grasses shown by the college and by proper cultivation, to grow grasses here as well as anywhere on earth.

The management of this institution deserves the commendation of everyone for the interest shown in the advancement of the agricultural interests of the territory. It must not be supposed that it was the intention of this exhibit to surpass in quality the products grown by our farmers. Its object was to show, in a graphic manner, the work which is done by the college and by proper cultivation, to grow grasses here as well as anywhere on earth.

D County.

Those who have been in the habit of calling our western counties "short grass country" would be astonished to see the exhibit from D county, under the management of W. G. McDonald. There is a large amount of fine farm and garden produce and it was hauled here by Mr. McDonald 100 miles across the country by wagon. Henry Johnson, Lewis Tillery and G. W. Davis helped him to arrange and supplied part of the display, and it is a wonder to all who see it. The feature of the display is a dozen each of immense pumpkins and cabbages. The blue ribbon for cabbages and pumpkins and corn were easily won by this western county. Yellow red and white corn, great stalks of castor beans, onions weighing 100 pounds, a can of sorghum, milo maize and sweet peas represent the cultivated products of the county. Corn, sorghum, alfalfa, clover and other natural flora and typical western curiosities form a display that keeps an interested crowd all day in front.

Payne County.

There seems to have been method in the madness of Captain Payne. There seems to be some truth in the contention of our friends from eastern Oklahoma that more rain falls and more stuff grows where they live than here. The exhibit of Payne county, engineered by Will Knipe and John Hinkle, is such as to make a city man want to go and take a claim and raise some of that himself. The quantity and quality of the peaches, apples, pears, melons, pumpkins, squashes, beans, citrons, sweet and Irish potatoes, cotton, corn, wheat, kafir, milo maize, yams, onions, oats, rye, barley, buckwheat and fancy garden vegetables was never equaled in this part of the world. Well may Perkins township and Payne county be proud.

Lincoln county has an exhibit that would be worthy a country of many more years cultivation. The exhibit was collected from the Lincoln county fair held at Chandler three weeks ago, and is in charge of I. H. W. Morrison, mayor of Chandler, and L. C. Kimball, one of the leading public spirits of that place. The display consists of White Indian corn, kafir corn, squashes, pumpkins, baled hay, cotton, apples, pears, three varieties of potatoes, black walnuts and tobacco. The first prize money awarded this county are for Indian corn, black walnuts, tobacco, hay and squashes. When Lincoln starts out to do a thing she never stops on any half work, and the exhibit at the Oklahoma fair this year exceeds anything of the kind ever attempted before. Mayor Morrison and Mr. Kimball are not missing an opportunity to put their county in a right light before the people. They are courteous gentlemen and personally show the public the exhibit of Lincoln county, and assist the association in every possible manner to put Oklahoma's resources before the people to the best advantage.

Views from the Merry-go-Round.

The balloon ascension will be great feature today.

Betting on the race events yesterday went on quite merrily.

Dr. Moore, of Perry, occupied a portion of the grandstand yesterday.

J. W. Clevenger, an old Guthrie '98er, was back to see the fair yesterday.

E. B. Ogil, ex postmaster at Orlando, spent yesterday at the exposition.

Henry Baeker joined the Perry crowd who are visiting the big fair yesterday.

John Dunlany, of Perry, was here yesterday looking at those warm races.

E. H. Knauss' sewing machine expert was a drawing attraction yesterday in Art hall.

The First Regiment band will parade the streets of the city this morning at 10 o'clock.

All business houses of the city will close at 1 o'clock today in honor of Guthrie day at the fair.

The state fair will close today in a blaze of glory for all the efficient workers connected with it.

The first place I have struck where you can get down out of your wagon and get your money as soon as you have earned it."

Don't forget that the admission to the fair grounds is but 25 cents, and it is the best investment you ever had a chance to make.

Charlie Hunter is hustling in characteristic style to keep Guthrie county before the people and he will succeed, too. He always does.

Fred Wilson and Bart Martin, of Perry, were here yesterday, accompanied by their famous trained darkey, Jacking.

Tules, owned by Phil Smith, will lower the Oklahoma track record to 2:13 or better. The weather being favorable, it may be brought down to 2:10.

C. C. Wilson, manager of the Texas R. and L. association, with headquarters at Fort Worth, is here attending the fair and looking after the business interests of his company.

Henry Schwarz, the hirscheradish man, took blue ribbon for last individual display, blue ribbon for Guthrie township, besides thirteen first premiums on single displays and three seconds on single displays.

The Pattee Plow Co. of Monmouth, Ill., is represented by a fine display of farm machinery and plows, and their gentlemanly agents, Messrs. Cline and Hedges, are making friends of all who look over their fine exhibit.

Theodore Horsley, wife and daughter, Hazel, spent yesterday at the fair. Mr. Horsley has a sixty-six acre farm near Marshall, this county, and takes an active interest in the agricultural and other features of the fair.

The way in which Starter Foster Toler shows his hand in a velvet glove when occasion demands has won for him the full confidence of race patrons. The decisions of the judges have also given universal satisfaction.

The beautiful display of hand-painted china, under the superintendence of Mrs. D. S. McKay, every piece of the lady's own handwork and a gem in its line, should be seen by all lovers of art, and must be seen to be appreciated.

The firm of Tontz & Hirsch had a splendid display of farm implements and had the satisfaction of telegraphing to Parein & Orndorff, at Kansas City: "We get the blue ribbon on the finest display of agricultural implements at the state fair today."

Irwin's hogs divide honors with Cook's magnificent herd in the pens south of Art hall. Such exhibits are bound to give a renewed interest to the hambone and bacon industry in Oklahoma, which has already reached astonishing proportions in so few years.

Among the curios at the fair is a Texas steer horn that was presented by Captain Payne, the original Oklahoma boy, and that she was here to see the fair.

They were fitted with mouthpieces and were used by the boomer, captain to call in his hounds on the plains and in the valleys of the beautiful land which owes so much of its present greatness to his efforts.

TRIED TO KILL.

Woman, Victim the Missouri Pen to Avenge Her Husband's Death.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 14.—It leaked out here today that Mrs. James Ketchum of St. Louis, a sister of the late Peter Morrisey, murdered in St. Louis by Maud Lewis, attempted to kill the latter in the state prison last Saturday. W. J. McQuitty, usher of the prison, was applied to for permission to see the Lewis woman, and he started to escort the visitor to the women's ward. Before reaching there the usher asked her if she was a sister of Maud. The question threw Mrs. Ketchum into a passion. With flashing eyes she told McQuitty that she was a sister of "Murdered Peter Morrisey," and that she was here to see that justice was done to his murderer. She was very much excited and it was apparent that she was mentally unbalanced. She was not permitted to see "Maud." She said that she heard that the murderer of her brother was to be pardoned, and was there to prevent it.

It is thought she would surely have made an attempt to kill the Lewis woman if she had been admitted to the female department. After leaving the prison she called at the executive mansion and protested against a pardon, a thing, however, that the governor had never for a moment considered. He assured her that Maud would not be pardoned. This pacified her and she left the city.

AUSTRIA WANTS TO KNOW.

Explanation Asked for the Recent Butchery at Hazelton.

HARRINGTON, Pa., Oct. 14.—Governor Hastings has received a letter from Secretary Sherman, stating that the Austrian minister at Washington has filed a communication with the department of state, claiming that there was a violation of rights of Austrian subjects in the firing on the mob at Latimer Pa., when a score of miners were killed.

Secretary Sherman requests the facts and status of affairs in relation to the case. Governor Hastings has referred the communication to Sheriff Martin and General Gobin, with the request that they enlighten Secretary Sherman as early as possible.

WARSAW BLOCK BURNED.

County Seat of Benton County, Mo., Suffers a Loss of $20,000 by Fire.

SEDALE, Mo., Oct. 14.—The most disastrous conflagration in the history of Warsaw visited the county seat of Benton county last night. Fire broke out at 11 o'clock in the center of a frame block of twelve business buildings in the heart of the town. Fortunately, there was no wind and the flames were confined to the block in which they started. The losses are estimated at over $20,000 and the insurance at $2,000.

MISS CISNEROS IN NEW YORK.

HOW HER ESCAPE WAS ACCOMPLISHED.

WAS A MOST DARING FEAT.

Disguised in Male Attire—Wine Had Made Detectives Easy to Deceive—Spanish Authorities Said to Have Worked at the Escape—To Hold a Reception in New York This Week.

New York, Oct. 14.—Evangalina Cosso y Cisneros, who recently escaped from a Spanish prison in Cuba, arrived on the Ward line steamer Seneca yesterday from Havana. At quarantine she asked to be excused saying anything about her imprisonment and escape as she was not yet recovered from seasickness from which she had suffered, and which had kept her in her stateroom during the whole voyage.

On the passenger list she was registered as Juan Sola. She was traveling under the care of a gentleman who accompanied her from Havana. When the Seneca reached quarantine the tug boat J. Fred Lohman, with several newspaper representatives and four women, went alongside the steamer, and after the health officer's inspection was over, they went on board and accompanied Miss Cisneros to this city.

Upon landing, the party took carriages to the Hotel Waldorf, and were assigned to rooms on the second floor. While Senorita Cisneros was fatigued, she appeared to be in the very best of spirits and exultant over her arrival in America. She does not speak English, but her face is very expressive, and she seems intuitively to understand the questions put to her, and answers in Spanish. The Senorita retired as soon as she reached the hotel, and refused to be seen. Among her party was Mrs. J. Ellen Foster of Washington, president of the National Woman's Republican association.

Miss Cisneros' escape and safe arrival on the Seneca was one of the most daring feats ever attempted and successfully carried out. While she was still in prison, her friends secured a passport for one "Juan Sola," and stateroom No. 3 on the Seneca was held in the same name. This was three days before the boat sailed. On the Saturday when the Seneca was to leave Havana detectives watched her gangway with extra caution. All day long they remained at their post, examining the passports which all passengers have to show before leaving Havana. Their vigilance would probably have prevented the departure of Miss Cisneros from Cuba had it not been for a little refreshment which was served them by friends of Miss Cisneros, who were aboard the Seneca.

The chief of police of Havana came aboard while the refreshment part of the plot was in progress, and it is alleged that he, too, fell a victim of the wine of the Cisneros faction.

A few minutes before the Seneca was ready to pull out from her dock, a slim young fellow came running across the wharf. He had no baggage, and was fashionably dressed. He walked quickly up the gangplank. The detectives stopped him. "My name is Juan Sola," he said, and he showed his passport. Everything was satisfactory, so the senator was allowed to go aboard. It is said that if it had not been for the wine, the strange tremble and rather curious figure of Senor Sola might have excited the suspicions of the Spanish detectives. But the scheme worked successfully. Miss Cisneros' friends, when they saw that everything was satisfactory, disembarked and watched the ship pull slowly out, under the frowning Spanish guns, carrying the fugitive to safety under the stars and stripes.

Miss Cisneros did not court danger any more than was necessary, and at once went to her cabin. The next day, however, when Mrs. Sola was left behind, she appeared on deck, transformed into Senorita Juana Sola, alias Cosso y Cisneros, and dressed in a becoming red gown.

The Cuban junta has issued an invitation to the people of Greater New York and vicinity interested in Senorita Cosso y Cisneros and the cause of Cuba, to attend a reception to be tendered to the rescued young woman at Belmont's, Fifth avenue, Saturday night. The reception will really be a demonstration of sympathy with the struggling republic and speakers of national reputation will address the gathering.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—A special to the Daily News from Kankakee, Ill., says: "W. J. Calhoun of Danville, ex-special commissioner to Cuba, knows enough of the political situation in that island to warrant his belief that Spanish authorities winked at the escape of Miss Cisneros from a Havana prison. It released the authorities from an unpleasant situation without loss to their pride."
